Club Grubbery - Raw transcript of interview:

2026-02-17 Graham and John speak with Dr David Cartland

Well, hi everyone. Club, grab time again and it's great to have you with us, Johnny. This is gonna be a cracker.

Yeah, well it's just, I dunno what to say with you. It's just another, uh, another day in paradise here in Australia and, uh, around the world, uh, unveiling all this madness.

Unveiling the madness.

Indeed. And we haven't even really touched on the Epstein foes yet. We've gotta do a whole thing on that, that is just obscene.

Mm.

What's going on with that. And, uh, what's surprising everybody is nobody's being arrested. Uh, or even, even in, well, they're probably being investigated. We shouldn't, uh, we shouldn't be too hasty, I suppose, uh, the various police forces around the world and the, uh, departments of justice have to get all their eggs in a row before they start doing that.

But anyhow, more about that later. Uh, I say this is a, an interview that I believe is one of our most telling interviews, John. I know we say they're all good, and they are, but this is about a doctor who stood his ground and stood by his oath of First Do No Harm. And we're talking to Dr. David Catland in the uk who has been heavily persecuted.

Now, if you, you're in the medical profession and you are watching this interview, and I know a lot of you are, you'll either be terrified back into your hole, which we hope you're not, or you'll be inspired to take action and follow the lead of people like David Katlin. David, it's an honor to have you on the program.

Thanks for joining us.

No, thank you for having me. I, I followed your podcast for a long time and it's just right on the money every single time. So yeah, it's an honor for me to be here as well. So, great mate. Well, let's, let's start with your story. Let's talk about your life pre 2019. Um, sorry, I've got a kangaroo knocking on the door.

Sorry about that. Um, your life, uh, pre 2019, what you're up to, what you were doing in a, as a profession. And then let's go on from there.

Yeah, I've led a very boring life, really in that respect. I'm a family man. I'm a Christian. I've got four children, five ducks and a wife. Um, and you know, I entered the profession, you know, as a really keen, you know, somebody wanted to help my patients.

I wanted to, you know, stand by my hippocratic oath that I stood by, stood up at my graduation. I remember the moment even now with my hand on my heart. Like I was belting out the national anthem saying first do a half. And I've lived by that really. So essentially, you know, I wanted to be a doctor since the day I was, you know, five, six years of age geared everything I've done in my life to that you have to, because it's, um, it's a job You have to really commit to early 'cause you have to do the right GCSEs and the right A levels to get into medical school.

Um, just at the time of applying to med school, I kind of had a little doubt, um, do I want to do medicine or do I want to look into science? And so I kind of ended up into science for the first three years. So I did a three year degree. Um, in biomedical sciences and that the reason that's important is it kind of set the foundation for my thinking and, and how I kind of unpicked the COVID mystery quite early on is that it teaches you critical thinking.

It teaches you to question everything, look for the scientific basis of it, and look for the conflict of interest for sure in everything that you read. Um, and yeah, so I got first class in biomedical sciences at the same university that I went on to do a medical degree at. And the medical degree, um, was a shortened version for graduates.

Um, and it was quite a prestigious degree at the time. Not many people got on it. There were any small numbers of places, lots of people quit. It was that stressful, but yeah, it got through and um, yeah, exemplary academic career in between the two degrees I did. Um. A master's in, um, in, in Angiogenesis, which is looking at the study of blood vessel growth and published some work on that.

So published scientists. So you've got this guy here who's a scientist, a published scientist, and then did a medical degree and achieved quite high scores in that degree as well at the same institution. So I'm not doing that to blow my own trumpet, but just to say that I'm not a tin hat wearing conspiratorial type of person.

Um. Yeah, and then I entered the foundation years as a doctor, did my, you, you do rotations in the uk so you did four months of this and that, and so you've got a good grounding in obs and gyne and pediatrics and psychiatry, et cetera. Uh, again, never had any complaints in my whole working career in the junior years.

I've never had any complaints in the senior years. Um, at the point where you've done your. Two year junior rotations, you have to choose what you're gonna do next. And I chose general practice, um, with a side hustle in emergency medicine. So I kind of hedged my bets and sort of went up the sort of seniority ladder in the, a e department, but at the same time, formally training as a general practitioner.

I think it's family medicine in, in Australia, you call it. And again, you know, my career is now, well, was 17 years in. Um, like I say, I've never had a patient complaint. I've never had any complaints from any employers. Um, I've kind of moved around a bit, I'll be honest. 'cause part of what I did as a, as a doctor, was going into surgeries and realizing unsafe practices, things that could be done better, things that were unsafe, things that put patients at risk, and then you'd be moved on, you'd be sort of managed out of the building.

So I kind of knew this was possible, but not on the scale I've witnessed in, in the COVID era and that, that brought us into the COVID era. If you want to go into that now. Should we proceed into the scam? Yeah. Yeah, so I was working in a very big surgery actually in the Midlands. It was 30,000 patients, uh, what they call the federation.

So surgeries that joined together to kind of spread, spread the workload, and um, yeah, the pandemic started in earnest. You know, we're all seeing the same thing on the tv, the zombie apocalypses happening, you know, the black smoke attacking each other on the tv. And, you know, we were all expecting that, you know, we were expecting the Spanish flu, you know, and, and I went into work thinking that would be the case very quickly realizing that it wasn't the case.

You know, me and another fellow doctor, a guy near retirement, were the only two doctors had stepped forward to man the fort. Um, everyone else bottled it and went home and worked from home, and they were doing telephone triage, and these were senior doctors just running, running for the hills while I, I actually got a waiver to work from home, you know, and I had to sign a waiver to say, oh, if I die of COVID-19, it's not on my.

Health centers had to be it, for example. And I went in and we had some very quiet days. You know, I, I got to catch up on my portfolio, my audits, my continued professional development, and we were having quarter filled to harfield surgeries. And even that, a push was, you know, us touting for business, really everything shut down.

Elective stuff shut down. People weren't coming in because they didn't wanna bother the heroes. Um, and that's how it went on in the Midlands. It went on very quiet. I was at board, I was venturing into hospitals, part of a political campaign. A local politician said, let's go and feed the NHS heroes. So I'd be calling up the fast food outlets in the Midlands and saying, can I have some pizzas to take into these, these heroes?

Slogging it out in a a and intensive care. And then I would walk in with a stack of pizzas to these empty COVID wards, these empty IUs. The AEs People were literally, I've seen the TikTok dancing with my own eyes. I've seen the choreography going on, you know, and people were like grabbing patient notes really quickly 'cause they were bored out of their brains 'cause there were no patients.

So the ships would drag on. So I've seen all that with my eyes. And then I moved down to Cornwall Cornwall's, right down in the deep southwest of the UK for a better life. The irony of that statement, because that's where it all kind of kicked off, that's when I really started questioning, um, not only the science, what we were seeing on the television, the silly rules, and we could list them for hours, couldn't we?

The six meter rule and the protective effect of a steak meal. You can go into a restaurant and eat, but as soon as you stand up, you're attacked from above by this virus. It's very selective. In case you've got food in front of you, it leaves you alone. Stuff like that. And I'm just like, really? Is this, you know, my background was in immunology.

And, and virology really. So I said, this doesn't make sense at all. And yeah, just the same down in Cornwell. Very quiet days. Quiet, quiet, quiet. Um, and then, you know, I mean, I was, it's not as if I wasn't speaking to the COVID patients, the alleged COVID patients. I was saying to them, how are you? And you were getting various incarnations of man flu as I call it.

You know, I've got achy bones, I'm sneezing and snotting and coughing. These are patients you would normally tell to go away and take their vitamins fully enough, their vitamin C, their vitamin D, you know, honey and lemon, et cetera. And, and don't bother the doctor. You don't need to see them. Never admitted a single patient in my career for COVID-19.

And then you go home to the BBBC, the British Broadcasting Corporation. I'll call it something else, but, um. They were telling you that there were these goggle, goggle, imprinted gaunt doctors that had been working day in, day out, shifting bodies, dead bodies around the hospital to the Morgan. It just didn't weigh up.

And that was it. I mean, I'm not gonna lie about stuff like that. What I saw with my own eyes, I saw empty hospitals. And it wasn't until a certain medical intervention came around that things started to really get busy. And that would be the form of the COVID-19 vaccine. Um, if you want to call it a vaccine, I don't anymore call it a bio weapon because it fulfills all the criteria of a bio weapon.

And, you know, it wasn't my, um, personal opinion. So, um, yeah, the vaccine came out. Like I said, I was spending my day calling these patients, getting the various incarnations of car or self-limiting illness. There were a few that were a bit wheezy. A bit sneezy, and those people I was treating with steroid inhalers, vitamins.

And, um, steroid tablets. Um, I, myself allegedly had COVID and I was a bit wheezy, set my asthma off, and I got better with one tablet of Prednisolone and that was the end of it. So, you know, had I made a habit of doing that, treating patients with Prednisolone, I'd have been in a lot more trouble than I'm in now.

Um, because as you know, the having a treatment for this disease was, uh, anathema. You couldn't do it. It's illegal. So saving lives from COVID was illegal. So that's where we were. And then the, the, like I said, this, this mRNA stuff came out. Um, at the time, I dunno if, you know, I had the vaccine, the, the, the bio weapon.

That's an interesting twist in my story in that I was idiotic enough to take it. And that was a story that stemmed from my best friend that allegedly died of COVID-19. She's, um, plastered across the tabloids. Emma, um, best friend, we grew up in nappies together, and she died according to the newspapers and the, what I was getting back from my husband from COVID-19.

She absolutely did not die of COVID-19. I'll tell you that for sure. I didn't know that at the time, but the day of a death, I'm down at the COVID Vaccine Center saying, God, my friends died. Maybe I'm just seeing the wrong tip of the iceberg here. And kind of almost as a kind of tribute to her, took the first one and I was in bed for days, three, four days with the most violent headaches.

I don't tend to get headaches, but really sick. Really unusual, atypical. It's like my brain was being shook, something entered my body that didn't need to be there. Um, and the second one really was born out of a very frustrating day at work. They came chasing after me. You know, it's, it's gonna be mandated.

If you don't have it, DRS can't your second one, then you're gonna be sacked. And they were sacking two other admin staff at the time. Uh, and you know, we used to cry on each other's shoulders. Literally. I mean, the two admin staff there were family, family ladies, and they, they were gonna get sacked. They didn't even see any patients.

And I could never really work out how that could be, you know, cobbled together with any sort of logic. Why are they sacking these two non-patient facing women? Um, and on the last day or two before the mandate came out, I've been chased around for 10 weeks prior. Probably the worst day in my medical career.

I've got, you know, the phone's ringing, the door's knocking, I'm doing 10 things at once, and they came in with the syringe, and I won't repeat the exact words, but it wasn't, please give me the COVID-19 vaccine second jab, please. It was pull my sleeve up and just, just get on with it. Just get on with it kind of thing without the swear words I actually used.

Uh, and that was it. So two jab on a vaccinated anti-vaxxer. That makes me an interesting, uh, target for these people because, you know, like most of the people who've been quite vocal, they've had the vaccine and been harmed by the vaccine. A lot of the UK based, um, reprobate, I'll say, um, had the vaccine and suffered the consequences of it.

So it's not like we haven't, you know, done it for Kingdom country and for our patients. At the end of the day, we did the right thing and most of the vaccine injured do the right thing. Um, and so yeah, the trouble started. Should we go into that? Yes. Go into trouble. So, um, before you do anything, essentially, like I say on the background of any questions, John, before we go to the next stage.

No, I think it's just easy for David to keep telling, telling his story. Yeah. Chime in when we need to.

Yeah. Um, so yeah, as I mentioned, I've, I've, I've gone through this career. I'm probably about 13, 14 years into this career. The vaccines came, the testing came, and I'm questioning the PCR and the lateral flow test for their quality and, you know, their, um, efficacy for picking out who's got this deadly disease.

Because remember at the time it was so deadly that one of the symptoms were asymptomatic carriage, you know, what I used to call being fit and healthy, but you could have this disease with no symptoms. I mean, that's how. Outrageous it got that you could go and kill your granny with a disease that you had but didn't know you had.

I mean, it's insane when you look back at it. Um, so yeah, exemplary career, no, no academic or, or clinical marks against my name. And suddenly the fun and games happened. So I originally tried to speak about my concerns. And my concerns were very basic. I kept it, I kept in my lanes. I kept it basic, you know, easy wins.

And the, the easy wins really were masks, lockdowns. Ethics, ethics and the ethics specifically around informed consent, informed consent and coercion, completely invalidate informed consent off the bat. You know, if you can coerce somebody, you've not got informed consent if you've got a gun to their head.

Uh, and then finally they went through the ages in the uk. They went from the oldies back to the young fit and healthy. And even then, I'm squinting saying, what on earth are we giving this to? I'm not speaking to anyone who's 50 fit and healthy. That's, you know, having any issues with COVID. So hence it's a risk not worth taking really if there's no benefit in all risk.

And they went back, and back and back and back. And then they started advertising the 12 to 17-year-old category. And I went bonkers at that point. I was like, you know, I've got kids myself. What are we doing here? And I stood in a room with doctors that completely agreed with me and said, look. We're not gonna get our own children vaccinated, and we won't be vaccinating 12 to 17 year olds under our roof.

Music to my ears at this point, only for the next day. The website of my surgery advertising the vaccine center, what I called the Jatoi, um, only around the corner and deploying all of our staff to the building where they were herding sheep through the building. Jab, jab, jab, jab, jab, no questions asked, no information pur conveyed to the, to the poor individuals receiving the jab.

I was never told anything. I mean, the jab went in my arm twice without any information. I didn't even know until after that. This was an mRNA platform. I was told it was a vaccine. It stays in your arm a couple of hours. Dr. Carland. I had no reason to disbelieve at that time. And yeah, so I resigned that day.

I resigned. I took a, a sort of protest resignation. Um, prior to that I tried to get my colleagues to. Take on board some of the early information that was coming out. The myocarditis risk in particular was a big one. We're seeing a big signal of people getting in the younger cohorts, absolutely no benefit from something that didn't work, but also getting swollen.

Heart syndrome, myocarditis. And I'd go into coffee rooms, I'd leave the papers, I would leave the data. I tried to discreet to start with, and then I would really become more gradually more aggressive in the coffee room to be greeted with equally more aggressive. Leave me alone. This is my coffee time. I don't wanna listen to your conspiracy bullshit.

Dr. Garland and I stood there with a published peer reviewed journal here, uh, and data, um, from the, from the governments of the UK and the world, to be told it was conspiratorial. Um, so yeah, I tried, I've, I've, I've got slide decks that I've got ready to present, still haven't presented them from early days, you know, showing my early concerns saying we need to stop.

And then we saw, you know, I saw that deaf ears were being met at every single juncture. I decided right times to get it out now and I'm gonna go onto this evil, which is social media. Um, prior to that I had a Facebook account, which I had family stuff and pictures and, you know, taking pictures of my dinner, et cetera.

Um, it became my platform to speak out, so I set up every account, Instagram, Twitter, LinkedIn, everything, and very quickly, I mean, the one interview I did very early on, I'm holding the Pfizer data up. I'm poking my head out and I'm running my finger along the Pfizer sex submission saying that we'll never get this to, uh, be consumed by the public.

It's an immunomodulatory gene therapy that will never be used in humans. And I'm reading this out and very quickly, I'm banned from LinkedIn and banned from Instagram and banned from Twitter as a, as a qualified voice in the, in the crowd saying, look, this is what they're saying about their own product.

Um, and that was really the turning point for me. It was the vaccine rollout. That's when I really got angry. For, initially it was the younger cohorts, pregnant women, they went for pregnant women. I mean, if ever there was a protected cohort of patients, it's pregnant women. Wrap yourself up in cotton wall, you know, healthy living.

Avoid things like, you know, raw meat and soft cheese. But suddenly they were giving these, this, this drug to these pregnant women. And that was where the, uh, the calling out of professionals that I saw publicly started because the vaccine came out. It became, despite taking it myself, became quickly and retrospectively clear that this wasn't a conventional vaccine.

And I read the Pfizer trial. That's when it all started. I read the Pfizer trial. Um, uh, I did my own research, AKA conspiracy theorist, and read the trial. And I thought, what on earth is this? What on earth is this that I've just read? This has made the market with this appalling record. Um, and they were jabbing like all the folk down in penance in Cornwall with this stuff.

And I just couldn't believe it. And it really, for me, it really started when the vaccine injury started rolling in, you know, and it wasn't after the first one. I'll be honest, the first one I didn't really know much other than the odd blip of I haven't felt right or I've got swollen arm. It feels really odd.

It was the second and third when it really became an exponential increase. Injuries of various sorts. And I mean that it was literally early on, very apparent this was causing a, a menagerie of multi-systemic, odd reactive reactions. And, and, you know, anything from peculiar headaches to this, that and the other.

Like literally patients would come in and say, I've got a bit of this, and a bit of that and a bit of the other. And it didn't make any sense from a diagnostic perspective what, what, what the explanation was for this. But one thing was for sure the patients knew themselves. It wasn't David Carland fueling their brain with conspiracy.

It was, I've had the vaccine and I feel like absolute garbage, um, in various different ways. And that was early on. And then the real eureka moment for me came when two women died in their forties. Um, and I had the misfortune of calling one of the husbands on a condolence call that we were doing at the time and said, look.

I'm really sorry to hear what's happened. These deaths were vaccine-induced thrombotic thrombocytopenia. It wasn't up for discussion, it was a coroner decision from the AstraZeneca jabs. And in the very same week we got a chap who collapsed in the town near to us. The city should have said Truro had a seizure.

He had a cerebral venous thrombosis, which is a, a brain clot. And um, he had the jab the day before. So these two women's death in the same week from disseminated intravascular coagulation to death by a thousand clots and to keep it layman's terms. And then you've got this guy who's got this massive venous thrombosis in his brain being evacuated.

And that was the first time I got called and TVA by one of my colleagues in neurosurgery. And I said, he had the jab yesterday and you're operating on him today. Don't think he could be the zaria yesterday. Oh, doctor, you're not one of those anti-vaxxers, are you? I was like, well, I've had it myself, so how can I be, I'm just calling out what I've seen and, and that's when I went to my boss.

We need to stop this. It's two deaths and a cerebral venous thrombo. And he just said, shook your shoulders, essentially. Said the show must go on, was his exact words. So this is my observation until now. And um, that was pretty much what I took to social media, my lived experiences, what I was seeing with my own eyes, the data I was reading.

And that's when the trouble began. The trouble began and the trouble was regulatory reporting. So I'd gone through a career of 13, 14 years, never had a mark against my name at a local level or general medical counsel suddenly. And to cut a long story short, I'd received out of nowhere, 256 GMC complaints, all of which needed responding to.

So you can't just leave them, you have to give your side of the story. Um, and when I did an FOI afterwards, I found out most of them were just trolls from the internet that were picking up the phone to to to the GMC. Um, some doctors, quite a few doctors actually, um, they were the GMC were redacting the name, but putting doctor in front.

So I could see there were medical and as I mentioned, 256 of which they took five forward. So I had 5G MC complaints for which they took me down with. So the rest were thrown out as, um, just misdemeanors or whatever. Uh, most of 'em were David carts spreading misinformation on the internet without any justification, backing all data.

That got me trouble. So the, the, the charges I got at the time were that I was harassing doctors. Um, I called it calling out doctors. So I called out various celebrity doctors. I called out various people speaking publicly to large audiences, saying, excuse me. For example, one of my victims was an obstetrician who said very publicly that the vaccine was a hundred percent safe in pregnancy.

And I related that back to the Pfizer documents. I don't think she'd even read them, to be honest, and said they didn't test on pregnant women. Pregnant women were excluded. I'd just done a video I was holding up about the 274 women that did get pregnant. Most of them lost their babies in the small sample, but they bothered to follow up for fetal outcomes.

And, and a quarter of them had severe adverse events. These were the, um, incidental pregnancies that entered the trial without knowing. So that's a little bit of data. We did have, it was catastrophic. Anything that's got a one in four, um. Adverse event rate is not good and it shouldn't be proceeded with, but they did it anyway.

So I called this doctor out publicly and if you actually probe AI or look at the documents, the and PTS determination, you know, I say things like, you know, extraordinary evidence needs extraordinary claims, need extraordinary evidence that was used as a statement of me harassing the doctor, you know, and, and you can read it for yourself.

I won't bore you with the actual content of the, what did Dr. David Carlin do? It was calling out doctors and making comments like that, you know, and I called her out, I said, please thank Dr. X for inflicting spike protein upon your newborn baby. That was taken down and used against me, as they said. Um, and they built up this kind of very clever narrative of me calling out these doctors, but twisted it into carland harassing them for simply doing their job.

And they were making some pretty audacious claims. Um, and cut a long story short, you know, it was a game of, he said, she said, he said that to me. So I said it back. And what they did was they cleverly removed what they said to me. Out of the equation. So if Dave Carland says X offensive, why did he say it?

What was the provocation there? And there was provocation in all cases. I didn't just sit there with my keyboard tapping away, abusing people. It was very much retaliatory that was removed. The first thing the GMC did in the hearing was remove all of my. The audacity that a defense, a, a, a prosecution can tell the defense what they can and can't use.

They told me my defense documentation was 80% inadmissible, so told me I could only use about 20% of my own defense. They gave anonymity orders and, and privacy orders on these people that complained about me, so no one knows their names. Whereas Dave Carland was public. We ran out death threats against me and physical threats against me.

We ran out an email that said Dr. Carland is a, we're a group of scientists and doctors, and David Carland is spreading this information, which is why he became a target of our network that was signed and sent to the GMC that I was target of this group of doctors and scientists so sinister in and of itself.

Yet they went away and deliberated and came back and said, private for them, we're gonna call them A, B and C, but Dave's gonna be known as Dave and everything's gonna be being done publicly. So we had this, um, we had the first half of the. Tribunal. It was awful. I sat there listening to them just lie and misdirect and mis and I'm sat there.

I can only listen. I've got a, a barrister at this point. And at the very end, the barrister for the GMC, he was a homicide and terrorist barrister in his day job. Highly paid, highly decorated. They'd also brought in a, a high rank CPS barrister for the GMC, like they couldn't get a higher barrister to take me out.

And we got to three weeks in, I sat there, it was in and out of adjournment. I was pretty much under house arrest in this room, listening to this rubbish being fed to the, the MPTS legally qualified chair. Uh, and it culminated really in, um, a breakdown. I can only say that it was a breakdown. I had a, I woke up at three o'clock in the morning and you know, I say it with a smile now, but.

You know, I was at my wit's end. I didn't know what to do. I was losing my job, my reputation, they were talking lies. This was beaming out publicly and I took myself to a cliff edge in the small hours in the morning and I was ready to go at that point. Really, I was ready to go. Um, and what stopped me that day was just thinking that I actually thought about my own funeral.

I was just ruminating over it in my kids and looking at pictures of my kids. And then an angel from heaven came down, which was the policeman that was alerted to me being missing and pretty much talked me down. And my God, if that guy wasn't there that night, who knows what would've happened? We wouldn't be having this conversation.

But it was adjourned. It was adjourned in earnest. The case was ended. Um, it's led to Dave Carland becoming really ill mentally. And we had a break for six months. And the six months. Then, um, we reconvened, I had to have psych assessments. The psych assessments stated that we needed to put this behind closed doors.

Now at this point, you know, humiliating Dave publicly for everyone's mental health, this was their psychiatry. So Dave Cutler needs to have this done pri privately. At the same time, the GMC and MP TS were allowing the trolls that had formed a sort of mechanism of attack on me to watch. They were allowing them free tickets to watch this.

And we right into the mp TS saying, this is intimidation. You can't let these trolls who were abusing him and harassing him online, enter and watch like it's some sort of peep show. Um, they ignored all the emails and they, they let them in. They let these seven or eight trolls who took annual leave to watch my tribunal from this pack of trolls.

I dunno if you've come across the trolls on X, but they're horrible, horrible, malicious demons. That's, that's all I can say. Yeah. And they've made it their mission to just abuse me day in, day out, and they're fixated with it.

Yeah,

so we got to, um, we got to part two. Um, I said, well, if you're gonna let the trolls in and you're going to ignore the order for privacy.

So they ignored that. They said, we're going private, despite the psychiatry saying it needs to be, uh, the public, sorry, despite the psychiatry saying it's going to be private. Um, and then they continued. So I, I said, look, I submitted all my written rebuttal. I've got a barrister representing me. Get on with it.

It's a kangaroo court. I'm paraphrasing slightly. But they went on with it and they got to the second week. And long story short, they struck me off. They struck me off. They found me guilty of harassment of three doctors. Um, bearing in mind, harassment's a criminal case. If I harass, I should be arrested or I should be charged civilly.

There's not any of that. The second crime I committed was a real bad one. I wrote five vaccine letters of support to avoid people going to have a vaccine to go and travel to see dying relatives. They called it falsification of medical documentation. The medical, the, the MPTS didn't have a copy of the letter to be able to tell me what date I did them, what the rules were at the time internationally, and what the eligibility criteria at the time doesn't matter.

They didn't care. They found me guilty of falsifying medical notes, and that's really important when we come to the collateral damage. This is done because it's led to consequences that are far beyond just canceling my medical license. Um, I'm struck off immediately. So immediately erased. I'm given the same sanction as a doctor that murdered patients, Harold Chipman.

Um, they didn't give, they didn't spare any time. It was an immediate erasure, you know, you've gotta do some serious stuff to be immediately erased. And they told me, I bought the profession into disrepute. I had negatively affected public confidence in the profession, and I was a danger to patients. So, um, that this, and that's when the fun started.

The tabloids took this story, doc, Google me, I'll just say that. Google me and you'll see what they wrote about me. Everything from I'm transphobic, I'm homophobic, I'm a bully, I'm a harasser, I'm an inside of hatred. I'm dishonest. I falsified medical notes and, and it just, it spun. And I live in Cornwall, which is a small area.

Yeah.

Uh, and put it this way, the gossip milling Cornwall is pretty, uh, profuse. And if you know, whisper, whisper, whisper, it soon spreads. And as you know, Chinese whispers things get twisted. Dave Carton suddenly became upstanding Doctor with exemplary records of Bully harasser and dishonest that the headlines were, I mean, one of the headlines were.

Inside the warped mind of dodgy struck off Cornish GP and his homophobia. And I encourage anyone who's watching this to read the article and to see if you think that I'm homophobic from the comments. It was things like a meme that said, man, woman, boy, girl, I'm a father and I'm protecting my children from gender confusion.

That's not homophobic. There's a picture of a, a, a singer called Sam Smith in this garish outfit, pink Feathers and all the rest of it. And I said, human evolution. That was called homophobia. So they just hit pieces. The local rag passed it onto the local paper in paper form. I was the middle, that middle page spread for two weeks in a row, calling me, you know, disgraced bully.

And then the second one was the hit piece about homophobia. I'm not homophobic in any way. Um, and so yeah, that's, that's when the fun and game started. So we had that. Um, I, I've been effectively made unemployable anyway prior to that 'cause the GMC, the kind souls that they are even before you get to defend yourself, wrote at the point of accusation.

So they took these five charges forward and they write to every surgery and call or saying, just to let you know, your doctor who works for you, has been charged, has been investigated for bullying, harassment, incitement, and dishonesty. Now, that's not, not a selling point when you're ing, which is going around and kind of supply teaching for medicine, being a standing doctor.

So I, I, I was immediately released from all six surgeries. I was doing really well financially, and none of them employed me again. And that led to a prolonged period of unemployment because as I mentioned, you know, the gossip milling Cornwall kind of spreads and your reputation precedes you. Um, what's happened since, just to complete the story, um, this is this trigger warning for the next bit.

So I, they took my career off me. They took my livelihood. I've lost 120,000 pounds a year salary. And Halloween 2026. 2025, should I say, I don't even remember when Halloween was, actually, I've lost track of time, but Halloween, we get a knock on the door and it's an envelope being delivered to me, and it's from, in the UK there's a service called the Criminal Records Bureau, and that's the criminals, as you can imagine, from the name Criminal Records Bureau.

So essentially, if you employ an individual, you check if they've got a criminal record, CRB. It's now been rebranded into what's called Disclosure and Barring Services, just to allow, there was a case in the uk, a murderer that wasn't formally charged, that got a job. As a caretaker because he wasn't criminally charged at the time.

So he was allowed to take that job and murder during that role. So they've opened it out to, you need to have shown demonstrable harm to a child or a vulnerable adult, so criminal or demonstrable harm to vulnerable adult or child. Um, so we put in a defense. They said, we're gonna cons, we're considering putting you on this criminal list amongst pedos, perverts and criminals.

Never really thought anything of it. Christmas came and went. My barrister wrote a brilliant rebuttal saying he is committed. No crime. There's no abuse, there's no harm, there's no children, there's no harm. Um, there's no vulnerable adults involved. So get back in your box. Essentially I got 10 beautiful references from child safeguarding individuals, head teachers, mps commu and consultant pediatrician saying, this is nonsense.

It's a complete abusive process. And submitted it. Thought nothing of it until last week. And this brings us right up to date. Last week I was confirmed that I was placed on the DBS Bard List. I was put on a list of criminals. Um, that effectively means that subject to a short term review period, um, uh, an appeal period at the high court, again, that's gonna cost a fortune on top of everything else.

Um, I've got, I'm indefinitely banned from working with children and vulnerable adults forever. Forever. So that's where I've been placed. And unfortunately it doesn't stop there. I know I laugh. It's actually quite sick, but it didn't stop there. So part of my rehabilitation after the, um, strike off was, so I became a football referee.

You called it soccer in the Australia year. Soccer. So I became a soccer referee and really enjoyed it. You know, I was an ex-player. I had to give up because my legs were just too battered from, you know, 30 odd euros of play. So I thought, I'm gonna do this refereeing gig. Did really well, promoted very quickly, um, with the wish to go up the ladder very quickly to a decent semi-professional level.

I've refered 61 matches this season. Um, great feedback. Like I say, nothing from the fa, not a mark against me. They know about the GMC case. They know I've been very open. I said this is the case. It's the kangaroo court. I've explained it to them. They let me referee anyway. Subsequently, I've been put on this criminal list having committed no crime.

The fa ring me and say, you are banned suspended interim suspension as it stands now today you are interim suspended from referee and all football related activity. And I asked 'em what that meant. And they said, you're not allowed to play football, you're not allowed to referee football. You're not allowed to even be around fa affiliated, uh, football pitches.

Uh, so this is just going on and on. And finally, they obviously being put on a bar list for children has triggered a child safeguarding. Social worker kind of pathway now. So my parenthood is gonna be looked under the microscope now as to, am I a fit parent? So all from this GMC nothing burger. And I still say that now of I've called a few doctors, a few names, they've called me names equally back, you know, and you know, I've called a doctor in evil, which, you know, so what, uh, and you've gotta put the, you've gotta think about proportionality here.

Um, and we've got doctors in the uk. We spoke just briefly off camera about we're being let off for rapes. Rapes are okay as long as it's only a one-off rape doctor. Let off. We've got doctors doing female genital examinations and investigations that are not necessary and removing women's ovaries let off.

We've got doctors who are on the sex offenders register in the UK practicing medicine. We've got doctors that have been found in possession of the worst grade of child pornography. Merely suspended until the trial actually, which is fair. Wait till the trial before you trial card. Now, I never had a trial.

I've never been convicted of harassment, and I've never been convicted of falsifying notes. Now, both of these are imprisonable offenses and I invite the arrest if you think you've got the evidence. But ironically enough, the GMC didn't forward this package of lies onto the criminal prosecution service because I'd committed no crimes.

So you gotta remember, you've gotta commit a crime to be found guilty, and I've been found guilty of a crime that I haven't committed. That's the end of it. And it's had this ripple effect into being put on a criminal list. And I've now been banned for my absolute joy. I love refereeing youth football. I love passing my knowledge and my skills and encouraging the lads, you know, and I love spotting the good talents and encouraging them, saying, you're gonna do well in this game and being stopped.

And I dunno how that's gonna end, because I know the FA is just gonna take the line of, you know, it is what it is. You've been put on the list, right or wrong. You've gotta seek legal remedy here. That's gonna be months and months and months down the line. So I was heading for a record number of referee appointments, but sorry, I've been a bit of a monologue there, so I'll hand it back to you guys and Yeah, it's, it's an absolute, it's, it's cautionary tale.

This this is a, if you're a doctor watching this, as you said at the beginning, you're not gonna want to be speaking out. 'cause they've absolutely disassembled my life. They've ruined me. I dunno what my next move's gonna be actually, because I'm now unemployed, unemployable on a criminal list and can't even have to seek permission to watch my, my kids' football at the weekend under nine.

Imagine how embarrassing that is. Having to ring up and say, can I watch my son play football?

Oh my goodness. You know, you're handing it back to us. I dunno about you, John. I'm absolutely bloody speechless. Yeah, this is, this is reprehensible stuff, mate. Well, I.

They can take my license off me. I don't mind that.

I was never gonna use it again anyway. Um, I'd have preferred it being a victory from me, you know? But what I didn't like was the kind of misrepresentation and the twisting of facts. The first thing they did, as I mentioned, they got rid of all my witnesses, but that's, that's, I've never heard of that. In any case, if you're a murderer, you're still entitled to your defense, you know, and you, you've gotta put that to the court for the judge to hear, and then they balance up the case and say, well, we've heard that side, we've heard that side.

We'll judge on both sides, but they got rid of my side. And the whole case was Dave Carlin's a bully went, I'm, I've not got bullying burning in my body. I've retaliated two bullies. I've called out liars and people who've spread dangerous misinformation for that I'm guilty. I put my hands up and I wrote five letters, five letters that were never seen by the MPTS, and I was found guilty of it anyway.

Like, so I've said, what, what international law. The reason they put me on the list, sorry, I forgot to say the reason I'm on this child list, the justification, and I haven't got the letter to read it, so I'm gonna have to paraphrase, but. You, um, floated international safeguarding regulations and policy during a worldwide pandemic.

If listen to the ifs and MAs, if you were to work with children in a regulated activity, you may allow your own ideas and opinion to overall government policy and procedure. So if you were to work with children in the future, you may be a danger to them. So we're gonna put you on the pedo list. So this is about crimes not committed, isn't it?

You know, postulation and conjecture of what you might do in the future. Now I'm not in a position to write vaccine exemptions now they took my license off me, so I can't even recommit the crime even if I wanted to. But here I'm, I'm, I'm banned from working with children for absolutely nothing to do with children.

Make it make sense.

I dunno, I'm smiling. Well,

I think it's probably the first interview we've done where we really haven't said anything. Uh, and I, I think that speaks volumes. I, I, I mean this stuff, this stuff, uh, is reminiscent of 80 plus years ago it was called the Gestapo. Uh, i, i, I don't know how she KAKE is what they call it.

I dunno. It's just like, they're just doing what they want because they can, you know, and the GMC were literally saying things like that. So one of the, the reason they found out about my vaccine, um, letters of support, they'd got an actor to contact me. So somebody, a STO contacted me, pretended to be a locum agency rep to find me work.

The conversation then turned deliberately to, I need a vaccine exemption to get to Canada. I haven't got a medical reason, doc, can you sort me out? And in this WhatsApp exchange, I said, look, let's have a conversation. I buy a consult. How much do you charge that to come? I'll do these for free. Was categoric on the WhatsApp exchange.

Um, he said, well, what, what reasons are you gonna give? Said bodily autonomy. Um, freedom to, um, refuse con, uh, consent with capacity and premium. None. The CS do no harm. I believe the vaccines to be harmful. None of these letters were shown by the way to anyone. Border of force control, never even looked at them, let alone rejected.

And at the very end of the message, the person who claimed to be Mark from Atlantis Medical Group told me He's got a caravan to sell me for when I lose my home. You effing see you next Tuesday. And that's how the conversation ended. And that ended up in the hands of two of my three victims who submitted a complaint.

I remember it, 15th of September, 2023. Identical word for word with this WhatsApp exchange saying, Dr Carton's flogging dodgy certificates. I never flogged anything and I never issued a certificate. I didn't touch anyone's medical notes, let alone falsify anything. I gave a letter saying, I think Graham HUD needs to get to so and so, so and so because so and so's unwell and they need to be at the bedside rather than take a bio weapon in, in order to do so on the grounds mentioned.

So even that was iffy And I said to the GMC, look, you can't in, in UK law, I dunno what it's like in Australia, you can't allow agent provocateur honey trapping or entrapment in as evidence. It's in it's inadmissible GMC right back and say we're the GMC and we can. We asked them why they chucked out my witnesses, why you said they're inadmissible and irrelevant.

I beg to differ. I said, well, we're the GMC, we're allowed to, we can, we can do what we want. And this, this is a charity regulator and it's not a charity regulator when you think about it. 'cause they invest in pharma. In fact, they invest in one of the companies that produce the vaccine, AstraZeneca. So they're not a neutral charity regulator whose job is simply to make sure doctors are safe to practice medicine.

If you can demonstrate how I'm unsafe to practice medicine, I'll take my, I'll take my punishment. But I've had a, he said, she said, they said on Twitter, the three individuals, all of which gave as good as they got, if not worse, and wrote these letters. And it is my medical career over 17 years of experience.

You know, I'm a doctor that's got GP skills. I'm a, I'm an emergency doctor, urgent care doctor. Um, I do homeless medicine. Um, I do minor ops. I teach medical students and we've got no doctors in corn. We've got a very short amount of doctors. So here I am unemployed, unemployable for, no, honestly, I'm not just saying, I dunno why I'm struck off.

They, they say, I don't have any insight. I'm not showing any reflection and, and remorse for my behavior. Well, if you tell me what I've done, that's actually that bad. To require an immediate erasure, you gotta do some serious stuff to get erased from the medical register.

You've been struck off because you're a national hero.

That's why you've been struck off. Uh, there's no doubt about it. I be you, you should be given the Victoria Cross.

Absolutely.

This is absolutely outrageous. Uh, what's gone on here, and it did. I mean, people must be just out there, there wondering, you know, uh, hoodie mentioned Epstein files at the start. Uh, I mean the volumes of, of these bureaucrats and, and, uh, and, and Syco fans and who, whoever else knows, mentioned in these, the politicians, so many of them, uh, nothing to see here.

Uh, private jets going to these islands. Uh, and here you are, you've done absolutely nothing, but raise the alarm about something that was not only, uh, never safe or effective for, uh, pregnant women was it was never safe and effective for any bloody person. I mean, the stuff is a bio weapon and it's, it's a killer, killer agent.

I mean, these people are absolutely mad. And, and, and raising the alarm at the point you did in relation to the children was, was nothing less than, uh, uh, it, it was a moment of absolute, uh, bravery and, and sanity, uh, you know, around the world that, that this was being called out by, by an expert. And you are an expert.

And, uh. Uh, I, I dunno why, why this is still going on, to be completely honest, uh, you, you know, the thing that really angers me more than anything is, is this stuff's going on, uh, in the background, this Epstein stuff, and then you are banned from soccer games. I, I, and it's just obscene. I mean, the, the absurdity there is that, let's say I'm on the list for vulnerable adults and children.

Okay? Let's, let's say that decision stands. Well, there are age groups in football, open age, there's veterans and super veterans, 50 year olds, plus 35 year olds, plus women's football, where there aren't that many junior people. Let me referee that. Stand by me. Fa, I've done, I've done, I think I've actually done you so many favors this season, for example, and that, that just, you get dumped.

I've just been dumped by them. In fact, I, I spoke to their welfare officer locally and said, look, I'm really struggling here to deal with this. It was my release, it was my sanity. And they just said, contact a local men's mental health charity. We've got enough, we've got enough to deal with.

I mean, you're likely not to even be able to get a visa to go to another country.

Yeah, I mean, it, it, it impacts everything because, you know, we're looking at foster care and in the future, you know, travel, like you say, employment prospects, they've literally, it's like being in an open prison. I can't get a job now. I can self employ, uh, even that, they come in after I run a health coaching website called Dr.

David carton.com. Just give it a plug. Um, and that's me, health coach. So I've had to rebrand myself into, look, I'm here as a health and wellness coach now. Um, I'm a doctor. You know, I'm a doctor, but you know, I had to make the website pretty robust. But even that's been come at now because in the DBS letter it says anybody seeking health advice is by default a vulnerable person.

How so? So if you come to see me about your toenail problem, you're not vulnerable. So they make this sweeping statement. Now they're gonna come for my, now that's the next email I'm waiting for now is the, you can't even do your health coaching, which is what. A small amount of money. I do about 10 or 15 appointments a month.

Um, it's certainly not the money I was used to earning as a doctor, and so I'll, I'll be literally out in a prison without being in prison.

Well, I mean, it's like rhino filmic, isn't it? I mean, that, that's exactly it. You, you are, you are a version of Rhino Filmic. There's no doubt about it. The only difference is that you are, you are not behind bars.

Uh, but you're still imprisoned. Uh, it's just sick.

Dave, this must have been very, this must have been very, very telling on your family. How's your wife and kids coping?

Yeah, it is. I mean, it is a telling. I mean, anyone would, anyone that would be stressed. I mean, personally, I'm, I'm a different person to what I used to be.

I'm a, I'm a stress head. I'm anxious. I get panic attacks, you know, I keep thinking to myself, what's the point of this? Uh, and then you've also got, you know, my wife and family and the impact, you know, but we keep it away from the kids. I hear bits and bobs, they know Daddy's doing interviews at the minute to try and raise the alarm about this.

I dunno that I'm on this list. They're too young for that. But my wife, bless her, she stuck by me. She still has 'em. I mean, for now, for now, I'm a lucky man, really. And that she has stuck by me because, you know, then every knock on the doors, you know, we haven't talked about the police. Um, so the people on the internet, um.

Again, this sounds very paranoid, delusional. There's a group on Twitter, you know, one of my victims was one of the ringleaders. There's hundreds of them. I dunno if you've ever come across 'em personally, but they're a very well established trial network. Who they are, who they work for, I don't know, but I'm a specific target to about 10 or 15 of them that completely.

Obsess over me, posting about me a stranger from Cornwall 40, 50, 60 times a day. One of their latest tactics is reporting me to the police for their, for harassing them. So I only had an interview two and half, three weeks ago where I was invited in under caution for harassing one of my harassers. Very quickly, the police realized that they've made a massive error and that the individual had been harassing and issuing death threats about me.

And it's just quite this bizarre inversion of me sitting there on a Saturday morning when I should have been with the kids and the wife being interviewed under caution for harassing one of my worst harassers. And do you know what? When they, when they throw it in the dust bin and say, there's no action here, they don't turn it around and go after the guy who's facetiously and maliciously reported me.

At the moment, I'm just asking the police for an FOI. How many reports have you had about me? I think it's upwards of 60, 70 reports about me and I haven't harassed anyone. If I had, I'd be beyond bars, I'd be crap criminally charged, as I mentioned. So all of these things I'm being found guilty of, haven't been tested in a court of law, haven't been tested by a judge as bent as they are in the uk or a jury.

These are criminal offenses that have not been tested. So, but yeah, my wife, bless her, she's still hanging on. Um, we're probably gonna have to move away from where we live. We're being hounded outta our home because affordability and, you know, just the fact that, you know, I'm not well received in my little village in Cornwall.

Everyone thinks I'm a lunatic.

I was gonna say, if you, if you get any, you know, harassment yourself in the streets, so you probably are.

Yeah, I mean, most of it's cyber to be honest with you, but the cyber stalking is now spilled over into physical stalking. So only three weeks ago I've had to report to the fa a local guy who has a tag, anonymous tag, um, that you can't identify.

He said he is gonna come and watch me play foot referee football. I mean, I've already had incidences of me being screenshotted ca cameras recording me while I'm refereeing covertly. And this guy reckons he was gonna come down to a football match, set me on fire and pour diesel on me. Um, and then he claimed to have been to that particular match and he said that I, yeah, actually said I'd had a really good game, refereeing, but spooky and sister knowing that he'd been followed around.

And one match a few weeks ago, a guy came to the, to the pitch side and he looked like one of my stalkers. And midway through the first half, I literally, I dunno how I got through that first half. I had a panic attack in the middle of the pitch. I completely zoned out the game, missed a couple of big fouls, and I, I only had to walk up the pitch because this guy turned up and I'm like.

It's one of my stalkers and the cops, by the way, don't do anything. I've reported all of the bad ones to the, the police. They're just saying no NFA not for action. They're not looking at the bigger picture and saying, this is a coordinated effort. They're not saying, look, you know, out of nowhere, you suddenly add 70 police reports and we're not acting upon any of them.

Hence, they should really be coming to the conclusion. This is vexatious and malicious mass reporting, and they're doing it to children's services. They're doing it to the a, the FA are fed up of receiving complaints about me. I'm a referee in good standing, I've been promoted. The FA turned around and said, we can't announce your promotion, um, online because they're asking, the trolls are writing to us, telling us to sack you, and there we are promoting you.

It's not good for our

Yeah, real fair income. Look, mate, I gotta tell you, this just goes from bad to worse. I mean, what is it? The CMP or CMS, who are they? The regulatory GMC, general Medical Council. The G. The GMC mate. Johnny, they're just, they're just as bad as Ara Ara is just as bad as them. Uh, our body is just the same.

They're, they're just a bunch of absolute lunatics drunk on power. They have no real authority, and they're able to do these things against the civil, uh, rule of law. I mean, it's just obscene. It is absolutely obscene. When I heard that you'd been banned from having anything to do with, with, uh, children or vulnerable people, I thought you were a pedophile.

That was the immediate thing that came to my mind. He must have been caught fiddling with kids.

Yeah. Yeah. And,

and this, this in the midst of, you know, Andrew Mount Batten waning around on horseback in Hyde Park or wherever he does his thing, who is a known, clearly a known, um, sex offender. There's no doubt about it.

And you've got all this other stuff. You had Hillary Clinton coming out today, Johnny, and saying. I don't recall ever meeting, uh, Jeffrey Epstein. I mean, you either, you either know you met him or you don't. And if you say you don't recall, that's you hedging your bets because you know you met him and you want to be able to say later on, you know, through a back door, oh, I forgot that.

Well, that's just absolute bullshit.

Mm-hmm.

And this stuff is going on all around the world. And these congos, these quasi authoritarian nut jobs are interfering with people like you who should be in the community saving lives. This is absolute bullshit. If you ever wanted proof that this is a battle between good and evil, there it is right there in David Katlin.

That's what this is. It's a battle between good and evil. And I'll tell you what, e I'll tell you what. Grace and evil cannot live in the same village. And evil's always the first to leave. This is gonna come crashing down on a lot of people. There's gonna be gnashing of teeth. A lot of people are gonna pay the price for this indiscretion.

It's more than indiscretion. It's downright. Look at the best case. It's count us from from some of the doctors. Are you getting any support from anybody? Are any doctors speaking up for you or is that, is that gone by the

way? Yeah,

I'm doing a lot of these podcasts. I'm just trying to raise awareness. All I've realized, all I've got left is my voice now.

I mean, as you mentioned, people make assumptions. People say, well, there's no smoke without fire. Dave Carland, like the Normies will say, well, he's been struck off. They wouldn't have struck a doctor off for nothing. There must be something to this. Same thing here. If I'm being bringing up my football manager saying I can't play, I've been putting them adults and children's bar this, there's an automatic assumption I've harmed a child.

Uh, and like assumption it's a sexual thing. I've. I've put the documents on online, so anyone who wants to check this out, the reason what I've just gave for, the reason I'm on this children's list is there in black and white. I might do this in the future, ifs, maize, and conjecture. But yeah, I mean, there are people that are supporting me financially at the moment, and there's people supporting me emotionally.

Prayerfully, um, yeah, dotted about, but not, you know, I want a groundswell. I'm in Ade Christie and doctor yesterday saying, look, you know, I, I, there's a petition going on to support me. Refused to sign the petition. Um, you know, the petition lists, all that's gone on here and said, I just, I don't, I don't think you've gone about this the right way, Dave.

This is a Christian longterm. It's now left to become left to run a ministry. Yeah. That's wonder. Yeah. And he literally said, I don't think you've gone about this the right way. I've always told you your approach has been wrong. Well, I tried the right way. As we've talked about earlier, I've tried the, you know, slide decks and the leaving papers in the coffee room and you know, preaching in the coffee rooms to, you know, everything in between.

I know ultimately the only tool I have left with social media to get the, to get the voice out and, and don't they hate that? The fact that somebody's got half a million followers across platforms, that I've got that voice and that that's why they've targeted. Now I'm easy pickings. I'm just Dave Gartland in Cornwall, isolated, you know, and they break you financially as well.

So a lot of this costs a lot of money. So the GMC case costs thousands and thousands to appeal the GMC case. They wanted 25 grand. If you lose, you pay the costs of the GMC and they were charging six grand a day to two barristers. So straight away it's prohibitive. And then secondly is if you wanna do a judicial review, you need 50,000 pounds to start the process to get this looked at by a judge at the high court.

You know, then you've gotta trust the judiciary. Uh, at the moment we've got judiciaries that are letting off pedophiles with suspended sentences whilst putting people behind bars for tweets. In fact, in the UK we've had a case of somebody who has been involved in a court case for thinking a prayer. She was outside an abortion clinic.

She thought a prayer, she was in a prohibited zone. She might upset the punters going in for an abortion, and she was charged for thinking the prayer. This is how Kafka's got in the UK Now, um, I call very, and Dave, let, let, let, let me ask you if, if, uh, there is a, a radical change of government and say Nigel Farra and his party get in.

Um, would that give you any kind of hope that perhaps that would, they would kick a few things aside and let's get some things sorted out here because this is ridiculous. Uh, is that something that you might be looking forward to? I mean, this woke, this is all, this is all about, uh, about woke governments and woke authorities.

Uh, I saw the, um, I'm gonna get shot in the foot for this. I know Johnny, I saw Jacinta, um, Jacinta, uh, Allen, the Victorian premier at a press conference today, uh, when she was responding to a reporter that said, why aren't you resigning giving the $15 billion? It's been lost, uh, due to corruption with the, um, with the unions.

Uh, shouldn't you resign? And, uh, she was very cocky about it. Oh, these are just allegations, da da. And then she wouldn't take any more questions. And when she stormed off, well when she walked away from the podium, there was one guy and nine women with. One guy and nine women now. I'm sorry, I just, I just think they, they look like a hens club and they're all standing there nodding in support of this witch.

And I'm call, I'll call her a witch. I don't care what she does. I'll tell you what, this woman is off the planet, bad news. And, and I'm just sick to death of all this namby pamby woke bullshit. We're sick to death of it. And, and, uh, all these quotas in politics, um, you know, we've gotta have so many women.

What hap what happened to appointing people on merit? What happened to appointing people on merit? Now, if we appointed people on merit, the GMC might have some decent people in it who would have the moral statute to stand up and say, we are persecuting a good doctor. Let's get over it.

Mm-hmm.

I mean, this is just absolute bullshit

jelly backs.

is absolute bullshit. Um,

I mean, you mentioned about a new political party. We're hoping there's a lot of jostling at the moment. There's, there's an alternative party called Reform. Um, there's several others around that that are sort of breaking away and it's all up in the air because reform, we're doing so well in the opinion poll, but it's, it's only gonna have to take a sweeping UK revolution.

Um, I mean, Nigel for Farage, I'm hope is aware of my situation. Some of these poli politicians are aware of my situation, but no one steps forward. I've approached two of the big unions in the UK and both of them, one said I wasn't high profile enough. I mean, what's that about? And secondly is that the other one have just flat refused to help.

And, and so I, I'm, I'm looking at political asylum in the, at USA at the moment. So, um, that's, that's kind of the conclusion we're coming to, to maintain my role as a doctor. And I don't wanna give up on that. I wanna be a doctor. Again, whether that's convention, that's, mate, that's what Andy Wakefield did.

Yeah, Florida, um, William MACIs, the guy in Canada who's been sort of, Dave Harland did, or I've been MACIs either way. We've both been persecuted for, for, for helping people. And, and he is just got his license in Canada now. So I'm looking at, you know, Trump says, seek political asylum and it's going downhill fast in the UK very, very quickly.

And so we're looking at, um, getting out probably to do some work in Florida.

Well, I tell you what, your, uh, your, uh, mate who said that he couldn't sign the petition because you went about it the wrong way. He is a gutless coward. He is a gutless, but he left the profession and he left the profession early on because he bottled it.

And there's a lot of bottlers because one thing I'll say to conclude really is that what they've done to me has been a perfect tale of co cautionary retail as to if you speak up in the uk, you'll get Dave Partland did. And that's what I get every day in my messages, my inboxes from paramedics, nurses, doctors, galore Weldon for speaking out.

You're absolutely right. We're seeing exactly the same as what you are seeing, but we can't speak out. Why? Because they'll do what they did to you, to us. And you know, I've got kids and I've got pension, et cetera, et cetera. So, you know, that's where we're.

well,

Know, what if 25% of the doctors in the UK stood by you?

They wouldn't have a leg to stand on, wouldn't have it

know probably 90% of the doctors would agree with me privately. And I've spoke to these doctors, oh God, if you get a doctor on their own in a room and and drill them, they know. I mean, in the UK gut after the second jab, 80% of doctors refused.

The third, the booster, 80% this year's flu, jab uptake was something ridiculous. Like 10 to 15% of staff took them. 85% refused. So by that standard, and I always say to people, you've gotta look at that statistic and say, what are those doctors, you know? What do they know? What are they seeing to refuse the third jab or to refuse their flu?

Jab know 80% of the JA of the NHS are anti-vaxxers on that measure. So here we are.

Well, mate, I think, uh. Johnny, anything else before we go to a prayer?

Well, I think the, uh, the political, um, people in Australia, you know, the Malcolm Roberts, the Pauline Hansons, the John Ruddick, the Alex antics, all, all the guys that, uh, are fighting for justice here need to raise your case in our parliaments.

Uh, we need a petition to go on here. I mean, this, this stuff can't go on because if, if it's, if it's happening there, it's only five minutes from happening here. Uh, and it is already happening here. It's happened to me. Uh, it's happened to Dr. Paul Ster house. It's happened to. William Bades happened to so many people.

Um, it's happened to so many people around Australia, uh, e either by default or, or, but APA are a grubby act. They're a grubby act. And this GMC, same thing. Uh, but then just, well, all the nurses too, Johnny, how many nurses have how many fallen foul of vara and also probably the GMC, I mean, it just is obscene at a time when they're worried about not having enough medical staff to look after the influx of patients from various things that they've got coming down the pipeline.

And they're sacking and censoring, uh, qualified doctors with experience. Dave, we've been interviewing, uh, people of your ilk for, uh, four years. We've done 600 interviews. We've done, we've spoken to everybody from the top down, the Peter McCull, uh, the Paul Marck. Um, we spoke to, uh, Dr. Kimberly Biss, uh, the gynecologic, uh, gynecological obstetrician in, uh, Florida.

Um, I'll tell you what, there's a great bunch of doctors in Florida. If, if I would be doing anything, I think I'd be moving to Florida mate.

Yeah, that's the target really. We're looking into that now about what the, whether you can transfer your, I need a, I need a listening ear really from someone in authority there just to say, this is a load of crap.

You

know, you've done nothing wrong. We'll, welcome you with open arms. You're a highly qualified academic doctor with a critical mind. Thank you. Well, well see my Hal Ultra's got the context there. I mean, they should be tapping you on the shoulder.

This is, yeah, this is what I'm doing now. I'm networking and I'm just, I'm kind of hoping and waiting for people to tap me on the shoulder, as you said, but it seems to be the other way around.

I'm having to reach out to them. I mean, asims got his own issues at the moment. He's the last man standing. He's the only remaining doctor. 'cause I've watched all my colleagues be struck off one after the other for their views on COVID. Their views on COVID been struck off. I mean, how, how insane is that one?

Well, here we're, but yeah, I'm hoping that people will watch this. That's why I'm speaking on every podcast at the minute because people need to know if, if it's happened to me, it can happen to you very quickly. If you can be put on a criminal list, having committed no crime, you can be put on a list with pedophiles having done absolutely nothing to children, you know, I'm a great father.

I've got four kids.

This has gotta be one of the worst cases of bullying, harassment, persecution. I don't know what you want to call it, but it's the worst of everything. It's, it's an absolute shocker. Yeah.

I've gotta agree. I know that sounds victim esque, but I've gotta, I dunno. Anyone who's, I mean, a lot of people get struck off and they're left, they're left, they took the license away, but to then continue it, it's almost like they're making a, an example of me yet further, I don't, I dunno what I did to deserve this.

We said at the beginning, my views are about ethics, patient safety, protecting children, pregnant women, and, you know, representing the vaccine injured. That's all I've done. That's all I've done. That's all I considered to be my crimes.

You're a hero. You're a hero. And don't forget it. Um, Johnny, this smack of Lindy Chamberlain to me, this, this persecution, um, you know, the, the dingo's got my baby.

Um, this smack of that kind of mismanagement and persecution. When people get a set on somebody, they're like rabid dogs. You know, they're like rabbit dogs. I just lost eight sheep to a pack of dingoes. In the last two days, they be, they were just savaged and left lying on the ground. And that's exactly what they're doing.

To Dave, to Dave Katlin. That's exactly what they're doing. It's reprehensible and people need to pay a price for it. I, I think we should pray. Let's have a prayer, Lord, father in heaven, we need you more than ever, father God, in this battle between good and evil, we're seeing indiscriminate destruction of people's lives, their livelihoods, their reputations.

And Father, we know that this is the devil doing his work and he is afoot in every form of life on this planet. So, Lord, we just need you to come soon. We need you to surround Dave Katlin and people like him have had the courage to stand by the oath that they took in practice. Lord, we need you to stand by them and protect them and take them on a journey, father God, that will see them vindicated at the end where they will, they will see the light of glory.

So Father God, we just ask you to surround Dave and his family to protect them and end the manda and shed light on truth. Because when we know the truth, it sets us free. In Jesus' name we pray. Amen.

You're a flame and champion Dave Katlin. Then don't ever forget it.

Thank you. Yeah, if you can spread the word, just let we, we can only raise awareness really. So if you've got any contacts in the mainstream media, send them this, this, um, I, I keep saying it's like a cross between a Shakespeare and comedy and a tragedy, really.

So

sharing,

we'll be sharing a far wide, and, and, and for all of those watching this program on all the various platforms, please share it. It doesn't work unless you share it. This needs to get into places. In fact, I know that this will get into the, uh, the Commonwealth Parliament. This will go into our Commonwealth Parliament House in Canberra.

Uh, we will be sending it to the opposition leader. We're gonna start bombarding the new, uh, federal opposition with clips from our videos and ask them to please tell us where we're wrong. And I know several politicians, as John mentioned, who will, uh, probably raise this. If this can happen in the UK and we know it's happening in Australia.

How long is this gonna go on for? Because this is suicidal madness. Yep.

Yep. I agree.

I thank God for the angel that walked up to the cliff and brought you back from the edge. Dave, God bless you, my friend.

Thank you. Thank you guys for a few times there,

Johnny la You've often been heard to say,

well, you, you just couldn't make this stuff up.

You couldn't make this stuff up. So look, everybody, what you did yesterday got you to today. We say this every night. Don't get too bogged down in this stuff. But for goodness sake, if this has got your hackles up, share it. Let everybody know what injustice looks like. Where a family man. Somebody who's a, an absolute uh, benefit to the community that he's involved in, um, is treated this way, then we all need to take very careful steps.

God bless you. Stay outta the trees and we'll see you uh, very soon with another great club grubby interview. Boy, they're lining up and uh, they're fantastic. God bless you all and bye for now.

Thanks guys. Take care.
